

Our team board

Netsafety Week 2026 uses five team roles to explain important ways we can all play our part online. Think about how you can use these in your own online life, to make it safer and more positive for everyone.

Captain

I do the right thing, even when it feels hard.

I stand by my values, treat others with respect, own my mistakes and choose actions that make my 'team' proud.

Player

I make smart choices to keep safe and well.

I look after my wellbeing, protect my personal information, balance my screen time and know when to ask for help.

Defender

I think carefully to protect what's important.

I question what I see, think before I click or share, protect my privacy, and make smart decisions online.

Coach

I help others to build confidence.

I encourage others, share ideas, celebrate progress and remind people that it's okay to ask questions and keep learning.

Supporter

I help others feel like they belong.

I include others, show kindness, check in when someone seems left out and help make online spaces welcoming.
